Colours and Patterns:

All colours and patterns conforming exactly to the standard for Oriental Shorthair.

Remarks The non-agouti varieties (self colours) of black and chocolate, kittens may have irregularly coloured coats up to 5 or 6 months, the coat being grey or rusty in parts and sometimes freely speckled with white hairs. Judges should not condemn them on this account if excellent in other respects, as these kittens frequently turn into the densest black adults.

NON-AGOUTI VARIETIES (SELF COLOURS)

No tabby barring in these varieties.

AGOUTI VARIETIES - PATTERNS

Classic (Blotched) Tabby (22) Markings to be broad and clearly defined on an agouti background. There is an M on the forehead, two or three spirals on cheeks and an unbroken line runs back from outer corner of eye. There are thumb marks on the ears and two unbroken necklaces on the upper chest. Vertical lines over the back of the head extend to the shoulder markings which are in the shape of a butterfly with both upper and lower wings distinctly outlined. Back markings consist of 3 vertical lines down the spine from the butterfly to the tail. The three stripes are separated by the agouti ground colour. Large solid blotches on each flank are encircled by one or more unbroken lines. Markings should be even on each side. A double row of spots (buttons) is to be seen on chest and stomach. The legs are regularly barred and the tail is regularly ringed with a solid coloured tip. The soles of the hind feet are solid coloured.

Mackerel Tabby (23) Markings to be narrow and clearly defined on an agouti background. There is an M on the forehead, two or three spirals on cheeks and an unbroken line runs back from outer corner of eye. There are thumb marks on the ears and two unbroken necklaces on the upper chest. An unbroken line runs from back of head to base of tail. Numerous narrow stripes starting at the spine run down vertically to the stomach separated by the agouti ground colour. Markings should be even on each side. A double row of spots (buttons) is to be seen on chest and stomach. The legs are regularly barred and the tail is regularly ringed with a solid coloured tip. The soles of the hind feet are solid coloured.

Spotted Tabby (24) The body and legs should be covered with numerous small spots, round or oval, clearly defined on an agouti background, and not running into each other. The greater the number of spots the better. The spots must be of uniform shape on each animal; they are as important as the colour however the colour of the spots must harmonise with the body colour. A faint spine line which may be spotted is permissible. A double row of spots (buttons) is to be seen on chest and stomach. There is an M on the forehead, two or three spirals on cheeks and an unbroken line runs back from outer corner of eye. There are thumb marks on the ears and broken or unbroken necklaces on the upper chest. Legs are barred and/or spotted and the tail is regularly ringed with a solid coloured tip. The soles of the hind feet are solid coloured.

Ticked Tabby (25) Agouti background with head, neck, back and extremities showing pronounced ticking. Colour on stomach and inside of legs to harmonise with ground colour. Body free from any shading (other tabby pattern). There is an M on the forehead, two or three spirals on cheeks and an unbroken line runs back from outer corner of eye. A faint spine line is permissible. There are thumb marks on the ears and one or two broken or unbroken necklaces on the upper chest. Legs may or may not be barred and the tail may or may not be ringed but has a solid coloured tip. The soles of the hind feet are solid coloured.

Marbled Tabby (22) Markings, while derived from the classic tabby gene, shall be uniquely different with as little "bulls-eye" similarity as possible. Pattern shall instead be random, giving the impression of marble, preferably with a horizontal flow when the cat is stretched. Vertical striped mackerel influence is also undesirable. Preference should be given to cats with three or more shades i.e. agouti background, markings, and dark outlining of those markings. Contrast must be extreme with distinct shapes and sharp edges. Belly must be spotted. There is an M on the forehead, two or three spirals on cheeks and an unbroken line runs back from outer corner of eye. There are thumb marks on the ears and one or two broken or unbroken necklaces on the upper chest. The legs are barred and the tail ringed with a solid coloured tip. The soles of the hind feet are solid coloured.

Remarks: The ground colour will vary according to the genetic colour of the particular cat. (It would be expected this gene will be expressed in all colours currently allowed for in the Oriental standard.)

SMOKE

The undercoat of all smokes is slightly lighter than the roots of the shaded hairs. Shadowy tabby markings permissible in all colours. Scattered white hairs and rusty or other shadings should not be penalised in an otherwise good kitten. In all tortie varieties, type (body conformation) is deemed more important than distribution of patching.

The smoke effect is produced by a silvery undercoat combined with overhair that is tipped with colour with a silver root. There is a general variation in the degree of smoking in cats, and breeders should select for those with the greatest degree of silvery roots and undercoat. The reduction of pigment overall allows the hidden tabby patterns present in all cats to show through in a sort of ghost tabby pattern in the smoke.

PETERBALD [PEB] (Standard Source: FIFe 2013)

General:

The ideal cat is svelte, elegant, with long tapering lines; supple and well-muscled.

Head: Medium size, in proportion to the body, well balanced; wedge shaped with straight lines. The wedge starts at the nose and gradually increases in width in straight lines on each side to the ears. There should be no whisker break in these two lines. The skull viewed in profile is slightly convex. The outline of the head and ears form an equilateral triangle when viewed from the front. Long and straight nose, in profile continuing the line from the forehead without any break. Narrow muzzle. Chin of medium size. The tip of the chin forms a vertical line with the tip of the nose. Neck long and slender.

Ears: Large and pointed, wide at the base. Placement to continue the lines of the wedge.

Eyes: Medium in size, neither protruding or recessed. Almond in shape and set slightly slanted towards the nose to be in harmony with the lines of the wedge.

Body: Long and slender, well-muscled but still dainty and elegant. The shoulders are not wider than the hips.

Legs and Feet: Long and fine, in proportion to the body. Paws small and oval.

Tail: Very long; thin, also at the base; tapers to a fine point.

Coat: Skin: Thin; wrinkling is concentrated mainly around the muzzle, between the ears and around the shoulders.

Coat: Short, soft, fine hair on the muzzle, at the base of the ears, legs and tail that feels like velvet may occur, mainly on young cats. Whiskers curly, thick, of any length, maybe broken off.

Hairless: Appears hairless. Complete hairlessness is preferred.

Flock: Residual flock hair with no more than 2 mm length on the whole body.

Brush (83): Fine wavy, often wiry hair on the whole body, with bald areas on the head, upper part of neck or on the back of more than 2mm in length.

For colour and patterns recognised refer to the descriptions below.

Remarks: Kittens can be born with a rex-like coat or without it. It is obligatory to have a “bald-spot” on the forehead. Whiskers should be curly and this is the main indication that a new-born kitten is a Peterbald.

The chin and jaw are medium, the tip of the chin forming a vertical line with the tip of the nose. The eyes are medium in size, neither protruding nor recessed; almond in shape and set slightly slanted towards the nose to be in harmony with the lines of the wedge.

The outline of the head and ears form an equilateral triangle when viewed from the front.

Point Colour: Patches of red/cream (all shades of pale and dark) on the tabby pattern. The distribution of patches is the same as for tortie points. Ears mottled. Tail regularly ringed, patching allowed.

CARAMEL TORTIE TABBY POINT

(SIA gm blue based / SIA jm lilac based / SIA rm fawn based) 21

Body Colour: Off white (magnolia). Tabby shading and tortie patching, if any, to tone with the points.

Point Colour:

All: Note: point colour development in lilac and fawn based caramel is more pronounced in kittens at an earlier age than their non-caramel equivalents. There is a brownish tone to non-O gene fur between toes and surrounding the paw pads. The characteristic metallic sheen is particularly seen on the hocks, developing with maturity. The effect of Dm (Dilute modifier) is to give a warm, brownish cast to lilac and blue.

Blue Based: dark but warm toned brownish blue grey patched and/or intermingled with shades of apricot.

Lilac Based: warm, light tan, dove grey patched and/or intermingled at random with shades of apricot.

Fawn Based: warm, intense (lively) light brownish grey patched and/or intermingled at random with shades of apricot.

Nose leather & Paw pads: As for the equivalent caramel or caramel tabby point colour, may be mottled with bright pink.

SMOKE POINT

The undercoat in the points of all smoke points is markedly lighter than the surface colour. There are paler areas around the eyes and ear furnishings which will normally be of a lighter, contrasting tone, or may appear brindled, as can all pointed areas. Kittens (particularly non-seals) may show markedly incomplete masks. The underside of the tail may appear paler than the upper side.

There is a variation in the degree of contrast between roots and surface (point) colour, the clearest contrast usually presenting in dense colours. Definition between the paler roots and the surface colour can be particularly difficult to ascertain in Siamese because of their very short coats.

The reduction in pigment overall allows the hidden tabby patterns present in all cats to show through in a ghost tabby pattern in the smoke, especially in the brow. There is a great variation in the degree of contrast in smoke cats, and breeders should select for those which in maturity have the greatest degree of silvery undercoat and least ghost tabby marking. Because of the paler roots and incomplete cover of Body Colour, many smoke points have obviously paler points on the legs than their non-silver counterparts.

Note: In smoke points, body shading colour is on the surface of the coat only. Coat texture may be extra silky due to the inhibitor gene (silver).

NOTES ON SILVER TABBY POINT

The degree of silvering varies. Some cats look like tabby points, while others show extreme contrast between the colour and the ground. The ideal is the silver with the extreme contrast.

- a) The ear furnishings in all silver cats are preferably silver white (exception: Siamese smoke points).
- b) The thumbprints on the ears of silver tabby cats (pointed or not) are distinctly pale, varying from off white to clear silver, as are the ear rims.
